Target Audience

ThunderPlains is a developer-focused conference. Our audience is mostly JavaScript and front-end developers and related jobs. JavaScript is unique in the fact that all developers have to use it in the browser, so it's not uncommon to have a wide variety of developers with all kinds of different experience and backgrounds at our conference.

- JavaScript (Browser, Mobile Apps, and Node.js)
- Front-End Developers and Designers (HTML/CSS, etc.)
- Developers from all backgrounds interested in JavaScript
- Business/Startup Owners
- Project Managers

Techlahoma does not share attendee information with sponsors. This includes contact information and demographic data. Note that we offer social media shout out opportunities and advertising throughout the conference, but all contact with attendees comes directly from official Techlahoma/ThunderPlains Conference communication channels.
